Statement: 2.1, Seminar 1

It is the end of the sprint. An important feature was not yet merged, and the client demands it be completed until the last day of the sprint. Since internal processes are slow, the employees bypass some of them, in order to speed up the process. So, peer reviews aren't properly done and the code isn't tested. This leads to data loss in prod and some overtime work from the employees in order to fix the issue.
